The Cambrian News

From The Editor:

Sadly we learnt that Graham Rees, the motive force for many years together with his wife Gaynor, of the Mid-Island Welsh Society in Nanaimo, passed away. Our society, through our President, sent a message of condolence.

This issue contains a report on our St. David's Dinner and related items and also the very commendable initiative to include the Welsh in the Valley. I lack a report on our own March 1st celebration but I understand it was well attended and if previous years' events are any guide, Neville Thomas' organization would have guaranteed a jovial evening.

We have a feast of Eisteddfodau on the horizon. Especially interesting is the new Ninnau one by mail. In the past members have performed well in competitions – so now's your chance again! The poem entitled "The native never returns" is close to the theme of Eifion Williams' Toast to Wales! There are also some interesting essay topics and I look forward to seeing our members in the winners circle! There is a traditional Eisteddfod at the North American Festival of Wales (www.nafow.org). The Festival is full of interesting events and offers a very attractive way to spend September 2-5.

For those despairing of Rugby, Swansea City visits Cardiff City on Sat. April 3rd.

Thanks to Alice Roberts for the poem by R.S. Thomas

Photos from the St. David's Dinner on February 27th.

We held a most convivial gathering at the Cambrian Hall to celebrate our patron saint. After a welcome from our President, John Morris and a blessing on our meal in Welsh and English by Gwilym and Irene Evans respectively, we enjoyed our tasty dinner, catered again with customary skill by Jordans.

Our Secretary, Elizabeth Williams Wallace brought us greetings from other Welsh societies and organizations around the world. Notably absent was a message from the First Minister for Wales, since Rhodri Morgan had retired. We were then entertained by Jonathan Quick, admirably singing two Welsh classics, Myfanwy and Unwaith eto Nghymru Annwyl.

Gethin Owen gave the Toast to Canada speaking in both English and Welsh. We followed by singing O Canada.

Eifion Williams gave the Toast to Wales and humorously reflected on the Wales of his childhood which was no longer there. "But you can take it with you!" We then sang Hen Wlad fy Nhadau.

The Toast to St. David was presented by Lynn Owens-Whalen who told us many historical facts and fables about his life.

After another song by Jonathan Quick, David Llewelyn Williams introduced the song Cenwch y Clychau i Dewi created by Gwenno Dafydd for the Annual St. David's Day Procession in Cardiff and now adopted as the Official Song (see September 2009 Newsletter for details).

Elizabeth Williams Wallace bravely volunteered to teach us the song to allow us to feel at one with those in Wales on this occasion. She had prepared a hand-out documenting the history of the song and of the Pembrokeshire Banner carried in the Procession. So Elizabeth sang the verses about Dewi and we learnt to sing the chorus!

To conclude the program, Lynn Owens-Whalen led us in Community Singing with Ray Batten providing the piano accompaniment.

Before his closing remarks, President John Morris specifically recognized Jeff Owen who had served the society as its President for 11 years.

He then thanked all who had participated in making the evening a success and asked all able bodied members to assist with removing the furniture to make the Hall ready for its next occupant.

Thanks to Gwyn Evans for the first and last photographs. The others were taken by Uta Williams.

Thank You

To the members of the Welsh Society I would like to say Thank You for the acknowledgement I received for my time served as president. I was caught a bit off guard at the Saint David's Day banquet and was remiss in saying thank you at that time. I would like to say a special Thank You to the one person who made it all possible, my wife Gaynor.

Although I was surrounded by hard working people, it was Gaynor that made it possible for me to carry on. She was my administrator, my social secretary, my telephone communication committee, my catering expert, my event coordinator and my connection to the membership, especially the seniors.

Gaynor, I could not have managed without you.

Prayer to the Hockey Gods

Our Father, who art in GM Place, hockey be thy name. Thy will be done, GOLD to be WON on ICE as well as IN THE STANDS. Give us this day, our hockey sticks, and forgive us our penalties, as we forgive those who crosscheck against us. Lead us not into elimination, but deliver us to victory, in the name of the fans, CANADA, and the HOLY PUCK. AMEN!

This was read by Tim Savage at our St. David's Dinner. Clearly the prayer was answered!

News from the Welsh in the Valley

On March 6th 2010, our fledgling group of Welsh in the Fraser Valley enjoyed a truly memorable meal to celebrate St. David's Day, at the Rain Bar and Grill in Abbotsford. Chef Robert and Bethany, our server, produced succulent roast lamb, cooked to perfection, preceded by delicious leek soup and followed by apple pie.

Our private dining area was decorated with Welsh flags and daffodils. Strains of Men of Harlech and Cwm Rhondda completed the ambience! Thank you to Chris the owner and to Ron Baker the manager for an evening to remember. If you would like to join our group on future occasions, or if you are home-bound and would appreciate a friendly visit, please contact Mary Slaney 604-888-6563 or Pat Morris, 604-536-9556, or email: patriciamorris2186@hotmail.com.

THE SMALL WINDOW

In Wales there are jewels
To gather, but with the eye
Only. A hill lights up
Suddenly; a field trembles
With colour and goes out
In its turn. In one day
You can witness the extent
Of the spectrum and grow rich
With looking. Have care;
The wealth is for the few
And chosen. Those who crowd
A small window dirty it
With their breathing, though sublime
And inexhaustible the view.

Gareth Prytherch ar Radio Cymru

In late January, I was contacted by BBC Cymru, who wished to contact Gareth with a view to interviewing him about his experiences as a Prisoner of War during the Second World War. After talking to Gareth, I passed on his contact information and in due course he went to the studio downtown to be interviewed. On the morning of Sunday, March 14th, I was suffering from the 'flu so I didn't attend our Church Service. Instead I was able to listen to Dei Tomos' 5.30 pm Sunday program on Radio Cymru which played at 10.30 am our time. Soon I could hear Gareth being interviewed about his very interesting experiences. You too can hear the interview since Alwyn has put it on the website. But for those of you linguistically challenged, you can find an account in English by Gareth on the war archive site http://www.pegasusarchive.org/pow/gareth_prytherch.htm This site also includes a photograph of a reunion between Gareth and two of his closest comrades, one from England and one from Brittany, and a painting of Gareth as a prisoner by a Dutch POW artist which now belongs to the Rijksmuseum, Amsterdam. Dei Tomos did not include all that Gareth told him and some of us remember the Sgwrs by Gareth at the Sunday Service in November 2005 where he exhorted us not to categorize people. He told of the kindness of the German mother who prepared a meal for him when he was first captured and brought it to his cell at considerable personal risk. He contrasted that to the Welsh Nationalist who worked as an enemy agent with the Red Cross since he believed it offered the best chance of freedom for Wales. Gareth's memories offer a rare glimpse at a detailed personal human level into the war and can be read time and time again.

D.L.I.W.

After being interviewed by the school administration, the prospective teacher said:

'Let me see if I've got this right.

'You want me to go into that room with all those kids, correct their disruptive behavior, observe them for signs of abuse, monitor their dress habits, censor their T-shirt messages, and instill in them a love for learning.

'You want me to check their backpacks for weapons, wage war on drugs and sexually transmitted diseases, and raise their sense of self esteem and personal pride.

'You want me to teach them patriotism and good citizenship, sportsmanship and fair play, and how to register to vote, balance a checkbook, and apply for a job.

'You want me to check their heads for lice, recognize signs of antisocial behavior, and make sure that they all pass the final exams.

'You also want me to provide them with an equal education regardless of their handicaps, and communicate regularly with their parents in English, Spanish or any other language, by letter, telephone, newsletter, and report card.

'You want me to do all this with a piece of chalk, a blackboard, a bulletin board, a few books, a big smile, and a starting salary that qualifies me for food stamps.

'You want me to do all this and then you tell me. . . I CAN'T PRAY?

Dear David,

I have just begun a project I believe will be of interest to your membership. I am working in partnership with Ohio based lovespoon carver Laura (Jenkins) Gorun to design and craft this year's Left Coast Eisteddfod spoon. The second running of this annual event, this year's Left Coast Eisteddfod will be held in Portland, Oregon on October 3-10. And if that isn't enough Welsh-related excitement, you could win this love-spoon!! All donors to the Left Coast Eisteddfod will be eligible to win the spoon when a draw is held for it during Eisteddfod events. Laura and I will be blogging our progress as we design and carve the spoon and we are hoping that it will be of interest to Welsh society members across North America. If you've ever wanted to learn more about the love-spoon and watch one being created, here's your opportunity! Please go to www.davidwestern.blogspot.com to follow the creation of the Left Coast Lovespoon Mark 2.

To learn more about the Left Coast Eisteddfod, to enter its many exciting competitions or donate to it, please visit: <http://americymru.ning.com/page/the-left-coast-eisteddfod-2010>

On behalf of Laura and the Left Coast Eisteddfod, I thank you for your consideration,
With best wishes,
Dave Western
